

Dr. Chris Miller whose lectures will be topic enhancements for the Wednesday Evening Bible Study Group

According to Pastor Phil, he was blessed to have Dr. Miller as a college professor and now Dr. Miller's Old Testament Survey lectures are available online for free! (Incidentally, Pastor Phil has had A LOT of professors, and Dr. Miller is one of his top five favorites!)

Plan to attend this class either in person or via zoom. The biblical narrative will come alive as we explore how the chapters, stories, events, and literary forms all fit together in God's redemptive story.

We will augment the study with overview videos from The Bible Project and the discussion of the group. Bring your study bibles and come prepared to see the Old Testament more clearly than ever before.

Dr. Miller this year began his 34th year of college teaching and his 24th at Cedarville. He reports, "I love the classes I teach this semester (Old Testament, Romans and Galatians and Theology 2) because, they are all favorites. My colleagues in the Bible department are a talented and diverse group that make for amazing teamwork and camaraderie."

His education includes a Ph.D. in Bible Exposition from the Dallas Theological Seminary, a Th.M. in Systematic Theology, from Grace Theological Seminary, a conservative evangelical Christian seminary found in Winona Lake, Indiana, and a B.A. in Bible, from the Tennessee Temple University. His outside interests include backpacking in VA, CO, WY and CA with family, distance running, deer hunting, and house reconstruction, teaching my students the Old Testament, Paul and the Law, and mastering the Apple eco-system.
